

Middle - #7

Home is Everything

Home is hot coco by the fire,
Snuggled up in a blanket.
It's peace, love, and joy.
Home really is everything.

It's the sense of calm.
It where your kids teach their kids and their kids how to ride a bike.

Making memories and friendships,
That will last a lifetime.
Home truly is everything.

It can also be the bad in life.
Losing a loved one or a friend
Moving away and leaving so much behind
Letting go of things you had thought you'd have forever with.
Home could be everything.

Home is the annoying siblings that barge into your room,
The long nights getting your kids to sleep.
The twenty minutes of quiet before the "I can't sleep."
The moments with your kids you will remember forever.
Home is more than everything.

The sleepovers with giggles till dawn
The new puppies with new messes.
The family dinner nights with laughter and smiles.
Home is everything.