

In 2025, as plans for the library renovation took shape, the NPL community continued to show up and use the library in meaningful ways.

Nearly 90,000 visits, more than 136,000 items borrowed, and thousands of reference questions answered showed that NPL remained a busy, trusted place for learning, connection, and support.

From packed kids programs and summer reading participation to strong use of technology, online resources, and the Library of Things, these numbers reflect a library that is actively serving all ages. We are investing in a library that already works hard for its community and is ready for what comes next.
